El Salvador To Speak at New Lenox

Sterling Stewart, missionary to El Salvador, Central America will be the featured speaker at the Log Cabin Full Gospel Sunday School, New Lenox, Sunday, April 19, according to the pastor Rev. Gilbert Woodman. Mr. Stewart will relate some of his experiences and tell of the progress of missions in El Salvador. Mr. Stewart went to El Salvador in 1948 and remained there for four and a half years. After one year of language study, Mr. Stewart with his family, began missionary work in the San Miguel section a territory that had never before had a resident missionary. He was compelled to leave that section in a few months, because of illness. The next year he returned to the San Miguel section. Six months later a terrible earthquake hit that region; over 1,000 were killed instantly, thousands were wounded; and 90,000 persons were made homeless. Mr. Stewart's house and goods were left in ruins. However, he and his family were kept miraculously from harm.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Stewart

Being forced to again leave the San Miguel section, Mr. Stewart spent the remainder of his time in El Salvador at Santa Ana, where he taught in the Bible Institute. Mr. Stewart also served as Sunday School representative of the El Salvador District. Eighty new Sunday School classes were established during his last year in El Salvador.

Prior to going to El Salvador, Mr. Stewart pastored in Iowa and Arizona. He is a graduate of Southern California Bible College.

At the conclusion of his furlough period, Mr. Stewart plans to return to the San Miguel section of El Salvador, which he has been forced to leave twice, and establish a station among the 600,000 inhabitants.

At present he is visiting various churches of the Assemblies of God presenting the need of evangelistic centers in Central America.

POSTMASTER OF NEW LENOX DIES

Ellis J. O'Daniel, 60, who has been postmaster at New Lenox for the past 19 years died Friday night, April 10, at his home following a heart attack which he suffered while at work Monday, April 6. He had been in good health up to this time. Mr. O'Daniel was also a registered pharmacist, and operated a drug store in New Lenox for 20 years giving up this business in 1951. His appointment as postmaster was made in February 1934, when he was operating his drug store adjoining the post office building.

Mr. O'Daniel was born in Joliet May 30, 1893, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John O'Daniel. Before his family moved to Chicago in 1905 he attended St. Mary's school in Joliet. Later he attended Englewood High school and in 1912 graduated from the Northwestern School of Pharmacy. He worked in a Chicago drug store for several years, and later was connected with the Bayer Aspirin Co.

He was in Europe for 18 months during World War I, with the army medical corps. He was discharged from the service in 1919, when he bought a drug store in Chicago, and in the ensuing 10 years he owned and operated drug stores in five different locations in Chicago.

Mr. O'Daniel was united in marriage to Adeline Lannen on June 16, 1920, and during the two year period, 1929 to 1931, the couple operated the Casino Moderne at 63rd st. and Ellis avenue, on Chicago's south side. They sold this business in 1931 and moved to New Lenox at which time Mr. O'Daniel started his drug store there.

Mr. O'Daniel was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, New Lenox and American Legion Post at Matteson. He also held a membership in the National Association of Postmasters, Washington, D. C.

Surviving besides his widow, is a sister, Miss Mae O'Daniel, also of New Lenox.

Funeral services were held from the Haley Funeral Home in Joliet Monday, then to St. Jude's Catholic church in New Lenox, where a requiem high mass was held. Burial was in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

The famed movie and TV stars will personally shake hands with all of the children attending each performance of the Cole Bros. Circus at the Chicago Stadium—and that's not all.

Cisco and Pancho will give away beautiful pictures of them selves to each child attending the show from April 17 to May 3. Pancho and Cisco will put on one of their famed bank robbery scenes in the Circus but they are both anxious to meet all of Chicago's youngsters.

In real life they are Duncan Renaldo, (Cisco) and Leo Carrillo (Pancho). "The kids are the ones that have made us famous and it's for them that we want to do everything. Even if there are 20,000 kids to each performance, we are going to take the time to shake hands with each and every one of them."

"My amigo, Cisco is right,"

To Install VFW and

St. Mary's Bells
To Peal Saturday
For New School

St. Mary's school building fund drive will have a "kick off" Saturday, April 18, starting at 8 p.m. It will be held in the school hall at 19th street and Wolf road, for the purpose of presenting to the people of Mokena community the necessity of a new school for St. Mary's parish.

Father Juniper Frietag will present his views as to what is to be done. The school committee will be there with facts and figures, obtained from a careful survey of the parish. The committee is of the opinion that this project should be of great interest to everyone, as the growth of population in Mokena and surrounding subdivisions is proceeding at a rapid rate, in fact at such a rate that our present school cannot continue to provide adequate educational facilities for our children.

The bells of St. Mary's will ring out Saturday, April 18, as a reminder of the "kickoff" to be that evening. Free refreshments will be served and there will be entertainment for all to enjoy. Everyone is welcome and is urged to come and have a good time, and learn about some of the problems the parish is facing.

Members of St. Mary's school board are: William Weber, chairman; Richard Marcus, treasurer; Mrs. Ethel Smith; Mrs. Edward Sahowski, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kuchenbecker, James Marti, Wilard Munch, Arthur H. Marshall and Joseph Bernadin.

Pancho said, "There won't be any sheriffs among our friends the children and we want to meet them personally. We like everybody but sheriffs."

The Cole Bros. circus, which will also include the best animal, high wire and clown acts in circudom, will play two shows daily except Monday.

Because of the continued growth of business and to save time and labor it has become necessary for The Semmler Newspapers to enlarge their main plant and office at Mokena. A building 20x30 feet, adjoining the present building on the north, is being added. The structure will house a Duplex press which will print eight pages at a time, from a roll of newsprint rather than from single sheets, and will eliminate hand-feeding and hand operated folding machine. After running through the press, the papers will come out folded; the entire process is automatic.

The new press has a running capacity of 5,000 newspapers per hour, which will greatly reduce the running time and facilitate getting the newspapers out on time.

The Semmler Newspapers have been published in the present plant going on 35 years. They consist of the Mokena News-Bulletin, The Tinley Park Times, and the Orland Park Herald. An addition to the plant was made in 1947, when another large press was installed. However, with constantly increasing circulation in keeping with the growth of the surrounding areas, and the steady increase in demands for job printing the press has become inadequate for present needs, so a better one has been purchased.

Ground breaking for the new building was begun March 30. It will take about a month to install the new press, and it is hoped it will be in operation sometime in May.

The new addition will be of concrete block with a cement floor. The general contractor is Philip Hacker, Mokena. Mason work is being done by Roy Pfeifer, of New Lenox.

U. of I. Professor
Speaks at Mokena
Park 'Kickoff' Meet

Volunteer workers and their team captains who will raise funds for the Mokena-area park started out with enthusiasm and optimism after a kick-off meeting held April 11 in the Mokena public school. Prof. Victor Hyde of the University of Illinois, spoke to the forty who attended and who plan to call on all homes in the vicinity in the next few weeks, to raise funds for the community park and out door sports center. He said that every property owner, whether a parent or not, should be interested because of the benefit a park of this kind would be for the whole community. He stressed the importance of getting the land while such an attractive spot is still available. He is a man of great experience in this work as he is a consultant for the Bureau of Community Planning of the College of Fine and Applied Arts, of the university.

The Civic association has paid $2000 for an option on the partly wooded 25 acre tract, which expires June 1. The balance due on the land is $8,000 and an additional $500 would be needed to get a clear title. This title will be retained by the Civic group only until a park board is formed to take over the entire administration of the park. The Lions, Scout groups, churches, Wayfarers, Business Men's association and PTA are co-sponsors of the project. Dean Rueckert is chairman of the finance committee and all money paid in toward the project will be kept in a special park fund. These participating groups are planning to raise funds to pay for the property and for only simple improvements this year, such as a ball park and sanitary facilities.

Following are the results of the school election held last Saturday, April 11, for Lincoln-Way high school District 210. James A. Dixon and J. Earl Robinson who were candidates for re-election polled the following votes:

	Dixon	Robinson
Manhattan	113	115
New Lenox	51	55
Mokena	83	84
Frankfort	46	46

The board met Monday night in Manhattan, and after canvassing the votes reorganized with the same officers as the preceding year, namely: A. H. Krusemark, Frankfort, president; George Bovee, Manhattan, vice president; and J. Earl Robinson New Lenox, secretary.

The board took under advisement the removal of dirt in front of the building in process of construction. This weekend they will meet again and make their selection of brick for the interior and exterior of the building.

The contractors are making wonderful progress on the building. They started pouring concrete Tuesday. It is reported that all the grading is now completed.

Capitol Report

How to get its own players on the field is rapidly coming to the front as one of the thornier problems of the Eisenhower Administration.

While news reports continue to indicate progress in cutting the size of the federal payroll, no effective way has yet been found to replace any political holdovers from the Truman Administration who have been anchored into policy making jobs under Civil Service regulations.

A recent editorial in the Washington News describes these holdovers as "frozen barnacles."

"After the Republican victory in the November election," the editorial points out, "there was a deliberate rush to stack up many agencies with surplus employees and blanket them under Civil Service." (This was before the Republicans had a chance to take over in Washington.)

"The Eisenhower Administration has a directive from the voters to clean house." The editorial continues, "It can't clean house unless it can place in high office people of his own choice, men who believe in its policies, men the administration can rely on to do the kind of job it seeks to have done."

Some twenty years ago, the federal payroll contained less than 500,000 people. Now there are 2,500,000. This increase has come about under succeeding Democratic administrations. What has happened is that during recent years, a great many employees, who did not come into the Service under competitive examinations, were blanketed in under Executive order.

People who were brought in during the Truman Administration as temporary employees have been given permanent status since that time.

We must not allow the principle of Civil Service to become a complete mockery. It was originally designed to promote better government operation, not stifle it.

An investigation is now under way, and it may well be that Congressional action will be necessary to safeguard the system from the possibility of future abuse and to strengthen the rights of bona fide Civil Service employees.

Raymond Knieriem was elected school director in the election held at Maue school Saturday evening. There was no opposition. Mr. Knieriem was the nominee of Mr. William Bernard, whom he replaced. The Knieriems operate a farm near the school. They have two children, Rodney and Janice. Rodney is in the first grade at Maue and Janice is pre-school age.

William Bernard, the retiring member of the Maue school board, has been closely associated with the activities and the welfare of this community for many years. Mr. Bernard has served on the school board for 12 years, he was an assistant leader of the Orland Boys 4H club for two years. The Bernard boys, Raymond, Norman and Walter have been prominent in 4H club work. Norman was an assistant leader to Mr. Lorenz before advancing to leadership along with Orville Rauch. Walter is, this year, president of the Orland Boys 4H club. The Bernard have resided in this district 27 years and the farm they operate is often spoken of as a model of efficiency and management.

Charles Erickson who was re-elected Tuesday as assessor of Orland township has held this office the past seven years. Mr. Erickson, too, has been closely associated with the activities and welfare of this community. He is president of the Cook County Farm bureau and on his retirement from the Maue school board two years ago had served more than 30 years as a director. Since that time he has presided as clerk at the school election.

John J. Cole, who was one of the two elected Justice of the Peace for Orland township Tuesday, would like the people who voted for him to know that he is very grateful and that he will do his best to justify their confidence in him. Mr. Cole's experience as a constable and as a business man should be of help to him.

The Maue school children of grades 1-4 enjoyed an Easter egg hunt recently. Guests were Terry Donovan, Tony Molitor, Janice Knieriem, Edna Holz, Marilyn Perzee, and Billy Blank. Prizes were awarded to Edna Holz, John Stellwagen, Rodney Knieriem, James Senetis, Joan Stellwagen, Carole Turay, Ann Lembke and Marie Gawlik.

Mr. and Mrs. Janulis and children, John and Iona Lou, left Friday morning for a weeks vacation in Florida.

Jerry Gorman was severely bitten by a dog early in the week. Proper precautions were taken and the dog is under observation.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Fassl and son Leon, of Chicago, were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gawlik Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Alexander and children Lowell and Larry, of Chicago, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Culp.

Rev. and Mrs. Ray Homer and children, Sharon and Gary of Allenville, Wis., visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Cummins Saturday morning. Mr.

and Mrs. Roy Cummins and son, Christian, joined the family group for brunch. The Homers were enroute to Blendonville. Rev. Homer is a candidate for the Baptist church there. Saturday evening other members of the Cummins family were out to visit with their parents. They were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Walker and children, Arthur and Jimmy of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. Deen Taylor and children, Judy and the twins Deen and Donald also of Chicago.

The traveling basket, a fund raising project of the Alpine girls 4H club, is nearing the end of its travels. It has just one more home to visit.

Mr. and Mrs. William Felsch and Henry Felsch and children, Patsy and Sandra, visited with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Handzel, at Grays Lake Sunday.

Henry Felsch expects to enter the Evangelical hospital in Chicago for a few days this week for minor surgery.

Mrs. Eva Mrosek and daughter Carol, and Mr. and Mrs. Gust Mrosek, all of Chicago, spent Easter week end with the Edward Mroseks.

Sangmeister 'Open House' Enjoyed By More Than 500

The "open house" at Sangmeister Electric Sales last Saturday was a very pleasant occasion, and also a huge success.

The store had the appearance of a very modern big city store, and everybody was pleased and surprised. Many baskets of beautiful flowers had been sent to the Sangmeisters by business people and friends, adding color and charm to the occasion.

More than 500 people called during the day and evening, and many visitors were greatly interested in the cooking demonstrations. Prizes were awarded to Herbert Lambrecht, Dr. W. V. Hedges, Mrs. Conrad Oetter and Francis Fedak.

Feeding Hungry Travelers Big Job

When this housewife visited the Pullman commissary at Chicago, she learned quickly that it takes a lot of food and beverage to satisfy the needs of travelers. Mrs. Amilee Thompson pushes a truckload of supplies consigned to one of 400 buffet, restaurant and lounge cars.

If you think your family grocery shopping is a chore, consider the problem of serving food and beverages each year to millions of persons who are on the move in practically every state of the union. Although Pullman has long taken this job in stride, few travelers are aware of the gigantic "supermarket" that functions behind the scenes to provide for their needs.

Rightfully termed the Pullman commissary, this combination grocery and department store would please the most discerning housewife. On its shelves, she would find a wide variety of items, ranging from eggs and milk to sardines caught off the coast of Portugal, from electric toasters and coffee urns to fine silverware and china.

Based on experience and the traffic usually borne by each of its cars, the commissary estimates the supplies that will be required for each run. Attendants and bus boys utilize every inch of space in the compact kitchens or snack bars for the storage of food and beverage.

Pullman renders commissary service daily to approximately 12,000 men, women and children. A letter from Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, commending the food service and courteous attention accorded her and her husband in their private car during the political campaign last fall, is typical of many received by the company. It might be pointed out, however, that Pullman goes the modern supermarket one better in that it even places the food on the plates of its customers.

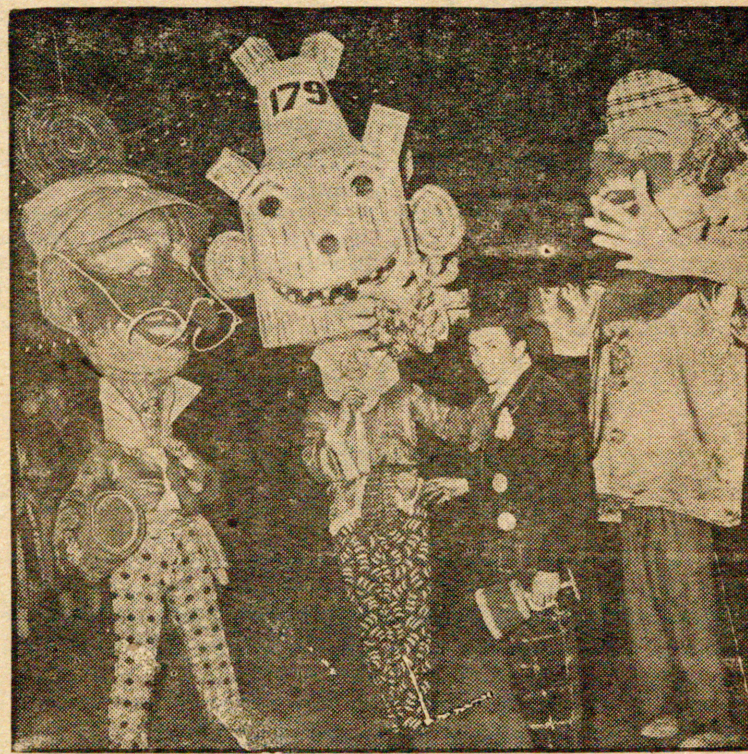

Corn Yields Doubled By Adding Fertilizer Based on Soil Tests

CORN yields can be at least doubled on Wisconsin farms.

That was the statement of Prof. Emil Truog, chairman of the University of Wisconsin's soils department, at a recent meeting.

To double corn yields per acre, said Truog, you have to greatly increase the amount of fertilizer used. Corn yields averaged 124 bushels per acre on 173 trial fields last year when 600 pounds of 3-12-12 and 400 pounds of 3-12-12 in addition to 10 tons of manure were used. This more than doubled the state average of 60 bushels, the highest in history. Six fields yielded 150 bushels or more per acre.

It will be very profitable for farmers in Wisconsin and elsewhere to double their crop yields through increased use of lime and fertilizer, Truog said. Each dollar invested in fertilizer, he said, usually returns $3 to $5 in terms of increased yield. This increase is largely profit because the labor cost in plowing, planting and cultivating per acre is practically the same for high or low yields.

Good Soil Care Makes Rundown Land Yield 134 Bushel Corn Crop

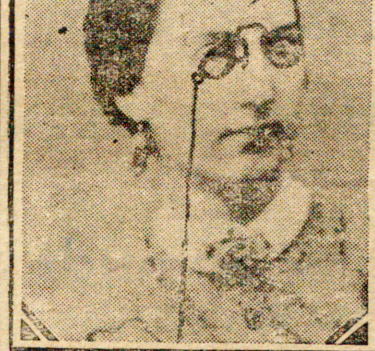

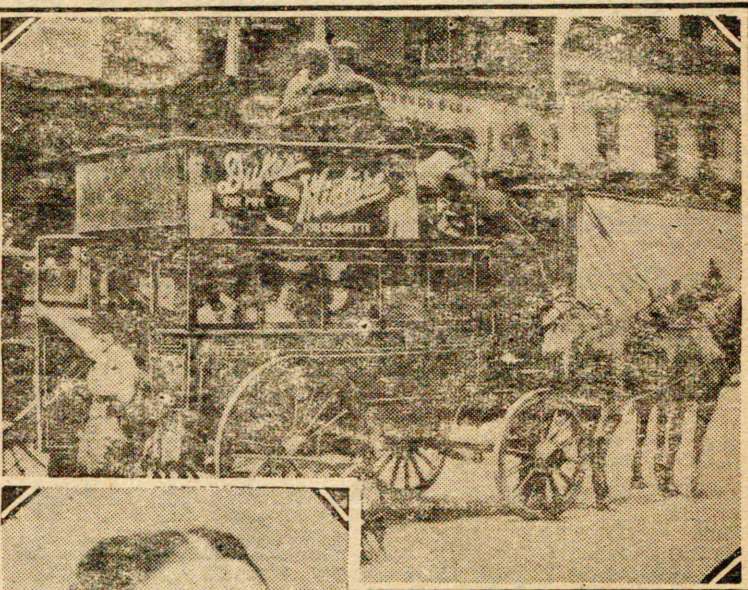

GROWING 132.4 bushels of corn per acre on rundown land when rainfall was 4 inches below normal, was the record achieved last year by Andrew Cross, who farms near Letart Falls, Ohio.

Cross says he got those yields by giving the soil a full feed of fertilizer carrying nitrogen, phosphate and potash.

When Cross bought the farm in the spring of 1952 he found most of the land in poor shape. Some fields had been idle for 30 years because they were thought too unprofitable to till.

Working in cooperation with a fertilizer company, Cross decided on the same fertilizer

One of these tricks is to harmonize eye-glasses with hairdo and habit. The modern woman knows that out-moded glasses date her—as an old-timer. So she seeks spectacles tailored to her face to emphasize its good qualities, minimize negative features.

Reading Contest Sponsored by Mokena Book Club Has Many Children Reading

by Mrs. Marcella Lehman
Who says television has killed the children's interest in books? We'd like him to come to Mokena some Wednesday, say about three-thirty in the afternoon when the kids are getting out of school and congregating over at Mokena's library at Front and Mokena streets. They've been coming in—over 100 strong—and borrowing books the last three Wednesdays and everybody is having a delightful time. This is a first for the Mokena Library, which is entirely voluntary and has been organized and run by the Mokena Book Club for the past 7 years. Every Wednesday night from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. the library's been open and staffed by one of the lady members of the Book Club.

The Book club members conceived the idea of a book reading contest among grade school children with the avowed intention of publicizing the Mokena Library. And so a committee was formed to put over the reading contest and to keep the library open Wednesday afternoons. Now charts have gone up in the library window one for Mokena public school and one for St. Mary's, and the record of books read by each grade is marked with silver stars.

One little fellow, no higher than a chest of drawers, insisted on taking out a biography of John Marshall, first chief justice of the United States; the detailed report he made on it when he returned it could scarcely be shut off, although it was quite apparent after two sentences that he'd read and enjoyed the book. One young lady was terribly worried because the library is open only one day a week—she reads so fast she'd like to have a book a day. But they've had to limit each child to one because there just aren't enough books to go around. This same young lady pointed out (and quite rightly too) that her girl friend got one book out the second Wednesday though she hadn't returned the one from the previous Wednesday, so that made two for her.

We think the answer to this is—More Books. Anyone with good books for children can bring them to the Mokena Library any Wednesday—especially picture books for first graders and pre-school children. Most of the books now in the children's division have been borrowed for six months from the Illinois State Library and when they are returned, an equal number will be taken out again.

Last Wednesday two 8th grade boys about six feet tall showed up to do their part for the 8th grade. They left with "High Inside" and "The Lost Eleven"—good sports stories. Some kids want animal stories and some want adventure and some want only the Bobsey Twins. Some of them have browsed right off the children's shelves into the adult books and have come to the door with Adventures in Polynesia or the Hall-Mills murder case, but these have been steered into something more suitable to their age and experience and reading ability.

It takes a three-woman committee to handle all the kids on these Wednesdays. One hears the story just read (to make sure the book was read) and gives credit to the proper grade and school; one checks the book in and puts it back in circulation again; one helps the children select new books and charges them out. Johnny reads faster than Jimmy and although they're both in 4th grade, Johnny is permitted to take a 5th grade book if he sees one he likes. Books are upgraded on the spur of the moment, too when a slow-reading child is anxious to do his bit but all the books for his grade look too, too hard.

Final date of the book reading contest is April 22nd and we're not predicting the winner, but it's curious that the fourth grade at both schools should be leading.

Quick Flavor Tricks With Molasses

Ten-to-one your family will go for these ten ways to season foods with old-fashioned molasses. This "unsulphured" molasses contributes sweetness, because it's the concentrated juice of sugar cane, and distinctive flavor.

A tablespoon of molasses gives sweetness and an aromatic touch to grapefruit halves. If you like caramel sundaes, you'll like a "Taffy Sundae" which is a tablespoon or two of unsulphured molasses poured right from the jar over a serving of ice cream. Sweet unsulphured molasses provides a beckoning aroma to baked beans, baked acorn squash and apples. It is a syrup treat on hot cooked cereal, biscuits, pan-cakes. Youngsters and father will go for open-face sandwiches spread with peanut butter and topped with a tablespoon of unsulphured molasses. And in the beverage line, a tablespoon or two of molasses added to a glass of milk gives spicy flavor and needed iron in the daily diet.

Molasses Quickie Baked Beans

Combine 4 tablespoons unsulphured molasses, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Add alternately with 4 cans baked beans to bean pot. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 45 minutes. YIELD: 8-12 servings.

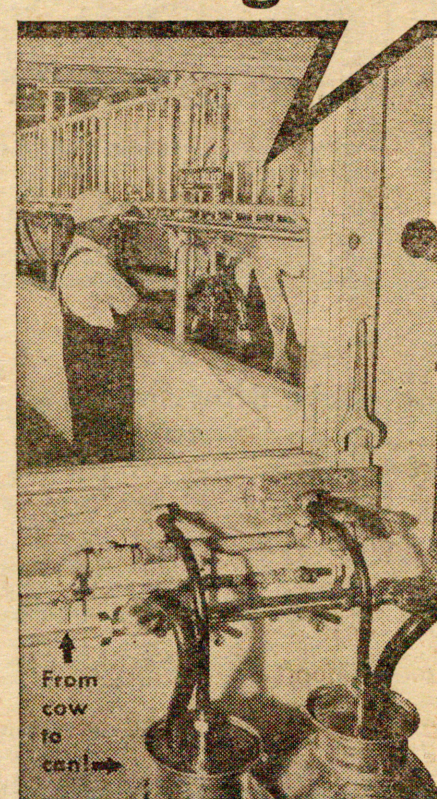

Molasses Acorn Squash

Halve acorn squash; remove seeds. Place in baking pan. Fill each half with 2 tablespoons unsulphured molasses, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine and a dash of salt, and cinnamon. Cover the bottom of the baking pan with a small amount of hot water; bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 1 hour, or until tender.

Molasses Baked Apples

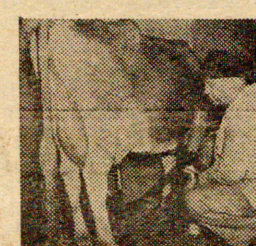

Wash, core and pare apples 1/2 of the way down from stem end. Mix equal parts of unsulphured molasses and sugar; fill center of each apple. Add enough water to cover bottom of dish. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) 30 to 40 minutes, or until tender. Serve hot or cold with cream.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

A few million pounds of beef raised in New Zealand, sold cheaply in a few cities of the nation, raised a much greater beef in Washington.

Sales of this beef for less than half prevailing U. S. prices, came as the drive to repeal all U. S. tariff laws was started.

Butchers bought the beef from Swift & Co. for only 17 cents per pound, or less than half current U. S. price. C. W. Harder, 30c steaks not only raised widespread public interest, but also three interesting questions.

Question ONE: New Zealand beef was permitted into U. S. because of an embargo on Canadian beef due to cattle disease. So Canadian beef was shipped to England; New Zealand beef, normally shipped to Britain, was taken into the U. S.

The question: How can tariff laws be suspended without the consent of the Congress?

Question TWO: It developed the beef was in the U. S. for several months. But the new expiring Office of Price Stabilization prevented its sale while able.

The question: By what authority could OPS withhold cheap food from the market?

Question THREE: Out in San Francisco, Milton Maxwell, butchers union head, prohibited sale of the meat in all except two markets, which had contracted for the beef before he made his ruling. He claimed the beef was butchered under non-union conditions. But when informed it was killed by the New Zealand union, he still flatly repeals. But it will take a lot to convince taxpayers they should be assessed to take care of foreign farmers, too, which will be the result of tariff repeals.

tenth wedding anniversary, April 10. The Winslow's have two sons. Mr. Winslow was recently discharged from the Navy and suffered a severe heart attack a week before Christmas, and only now is able to be up and around for a while each day.

Come on Neighbors lets have some news.

Heisner Holstein Herd Leads DHIA Assn. 1 in March

According to the March report of Frederick Holm, DHIA tester for Dairy Herd Improvement Association 1, the Holstein herd owned by Melvin J. Heisner, Peotone, led this group last month with an average production of 1203 pounds of milk and 44.4 pounds of fat.

Other high producing herds in this group last month with productions were: Arthur G. Henke & Son, Tinley Park, Brown Swiss, 1045-43.3; Vally & Cagwin Frankfort, Holstein, 1128-41.8; George Beutel & Sons, Mokena Brown Swiss, 898-41.0; Donald E. Nice, Sr. & McGlasken Frankfort, Holstein 1004-38.0; Raymond L. Termunde, Worth, Holstein, 985-38.0.

Herbert Kohl, Matteson, was owner of the highest producing individual cow, a Holstein which produced 2310 pounds of milk and 88 pounds of fat during the month.

Other high producing individuals were owned by the following: Louis Lauffer & Son, Mokena, 2180-87; Arthur C. Holm, Worth, 1980-87; Raymond L. Termunde, 2060-86; Glenwood School for Boys, Glenwood, 2000-86. All were Holsteins.

This is "National Rural Mail Box Improvement Week"

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has designated a seven-day period ending April 18, as "Clean Up Week for Post Offices" and "Rural Mail Box Improvement Week". This "kick off week" can continue through the spring and summer months. We are indeed grateful to the Department for their interest in this major project.

The rural carrier is much more than a public servant, he has become a rural institution. No one appreciates the rural carrier more than the rural patron, for in the rural carrier is invested all services rendered by the city postoffice. While many patrons make manifest their appreciation of this service by keeping their mail box in constant repair, yet there are those who do not.

It is in the Spring especially, after the storms of winter have lashed their furries on these little boxes which house "Uncle Sam's" mail that we make special appeals to have mail boxes removed or replaced, placed on the right side of the road according to the direction the carrier is traveling; resting on a good substantial post convenient for reaching from the car so the carrier does not have to leave the car; approaches to the box free of ruts, debris, snow, weeds or parked cars.

Your cooperation will be appreciated. — Mrs. Glenn W. Folkers, National Secretary Ladies Auxiliary to the Rural Letter Carriers' Association.

St. John Cemetery Association to Make Improvements

At a meeting held last Monday the board of directors of St. John's cemetery took steps to improve the appearance and facilities of the cemetery.

Lot holders are requested to dump rubbish only on the places provided at the western and eastern boundary of the cemetery.

The moles which have made inroads in the turf in many places are to be exterminated. Steps will also be taken to maintain even ground surfaces in general. Saturday, April 25 has been set as cemetery clean-up day. Volunteers are requested to contribute a few hours of work.

In order to increase the general operating fund it was decided to promote a sale of lots during May and June. A discount of 10 percent will be allowed on all lot purchases during that time. One-half of the sale of lots goes into the perpetual care endowment fund and the other half into the operating fund. The interest of the former fund can also be used for operating. The perpetual care fund now stands at $10,760.50.

Certain fees such as the opening of graves are to be increased to meet the higher cost of materials and maintenance.

It will be to the advantage of interested people to purchase lots now. There are choice selections and there is the reduction of 10 percent during May and June of this year. There is a reservation, a choice location, to the left of the entrance for war veterans and members of their families.

St. John's Cemetery association is a non-profit organization and operates under a state charter separately from St. John's church, the only connection being that of name, and that the directors must be members of the church.

Traffic Law Changes Studied For Passing Stopp'd School Buses

The Chicago Motor Club has recently proposed changes in Illinois traffic laws requiring vehicles to stop for loading or unloading school buses. The changes are designed to bring the State statutes into conformity with the national Uniform Vehicle Code.

"Illinois traffic laws, which are based on national model laws, should be amended in the interest of highway safety to make them consistent with other states which have also patterned their laws after the Uniform Code," stated Chas. M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club.

The first of the two principal changes in the law would exempt vehicles from stopping for a halted school bus when traveling in the opposite direction on a superhighway or in the same direction on a limited access type roadway where pedestrians are prohibited by law from crossing. The other amendment deals with the requirement that a motorist must stop when approaching a school bus from either direction at all times. The Motor Club proposal would alter this requirement to apply only outside a business or residential section.

Reaching Out

Lesson for April 19, 1953

If you had asked any one in Illinois about Abraham Lincoln, about the year 1858, they might well have told you he had been a failure. At that time very few persons saw in him his true greatness because so many of his ventures had either failed or not been notable successes. So with many great men. Their towers of success were built on rubble-heaps of failures. So it was with the great apostle Paul. He was sincere, earnest, energetic, from his very first week as a Christian. But he was not successful from the first week. He had tried to preach in Damascus.

only to be sneaked out of that city in a basket. In Jerusalem also he had tried, but the brethren tactfully took him to a seaport and put him on a boat for home. In his home town Tarsus no doubt he tried too (we can't imagine Paul sitting around doing nothing), but if he ever had a grain of success there we never heard of it, and Paul was not one to be silent about his successful efforts.

Home Base

If it had not been for Barnabas there is no telling what might have happened. He was a sort of pastor-at-large for the growing church in the important city of Antioch, then one of the finest cities of the Empire. Barnabas knew his own limitations. He took a trip to Tarsus, located Paul, brought him back as co-pastor at Antioch. Between them they made a great team. The church grew, everybody seemed to be happy; for a whole year Barnabas and Paul must have been the talk of the church. Then one day in a prayer-meeting it came to the hearts of those present that the two associate ministers of that big church should resign; it was God's will that they should. There was something else for them to do. Now that was the beginning of what we now call "foreign missions." But suppose people in the Antioch church had taken the line that some church members take now when foreign missions are being discussed? They could have said, "What? Send Barnabas and Paul as foreign missionaries? Why, they have all they can do here. Why bury their talents in some out-of-the-way place? People in Lystra and Iconium have their own religions, why not leave 'em alone? Let's wait till we get the heathen in Antioch converted before we start on the heathen in Cyprus!" But the church in Antioch (bless them!) did not talk that way, though there may have been a few members who did. As a church they gave their tried-and-true pastors a God-speed and saw them off on the boat for the wide west. It always takes more than a missionary to make foreign missions successful. There has to be a praying, obedient, mission-minded home church.

Expeditionary Force

Barnabas and Paul, on the other hand, were not like young chaps just out of seminary. They were seasoned mature men, tested workers, known and successful leaders. The church in sending them sent its best. It is a thundering mistake to fancy that you can send to the foreign mission field the poor fellows who couldn't hold down a church in America. It takes a lot more character and ability to make Christ known in a totally indifferent or hostile atmosphere than where there is already a partly Christian atmosphere and where the church is a going and often powerful institution. Whether it's home missions or foreign missions it is the same story. The firing line, the front line, calls for the best. By and large, too, the church has seen this (when it has "seen" missions at all).

If Not Missions, then—?

Suppose the church never sent missionaries, never did any evangelistic work, quit pioneering everywhere. Then what? Well, what would happen to a firm that never went after new business? What would happen to a newspaper that never wanted new subscribers? What happens to a herd of cattle that never admits new blood? An inbred church is like an inbred family. But the most important question is: What will Christ say of a church that pays no attention to his order: "Go into all the world"—?

Zion Ladies Aid

The Zion Lutheran Ladies Aid met April 1, which was opened with a hymn and prayer led by the president, Mrs. Ed. O'Neill. Mrs. Marquardt reported rugs were on sale at the luncheon April 8.

The business meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer. Program chairman, Mrs. Alice Propp, introduced Mrs. Agnes English who showed movies which she had taken of New Orleans parks the Mardi Gras, and the Black Hills of S. Dakota. These were very much appreciated by all.

The Easter motif was carried out in the table decorations. Each member received a little cross with a Bible verse on it. Delicious sandwiches and coffee were served by Mrs. William Keuch, Mrs. Art Wagner and Mrs. Herman Siemens.

Johnsons Return From Mexico Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Johnson returned from their Easter vacation which at Mazatlan, Mexico, a resort on the Pacific, where they spent one week. Mrs. Johnson visited a Mexican public school, and both she and her husband went fishing. Each caught a marlin.

They saw a section of Mexico which they had never visited before, in their previous trips to Mexico. Movies were taken and will be shown to the children of Orchard Hill kindergarten, Friday.

Mrs. Johnson brought back miniature Mexican mugs, and chocolate stirrers, for her pupils, and also some chocolate which she served to them. They decide, this was very different from the kind that they were used to drinking.

A delegation of men and women from the church attended an evangelistic meeting at Black Oak Christian church in Black Oak, Ind., last Monday.

David Downey, graduate of the Cincinnati Bible Seminary, conducted services Sunday at the Tinley Park Church of Christ. Mr. Downey will also be at the church this coming Sunday to give another of his inspiring sermons.

Several women from the church met at the home of Carol Carlson on Oak Park ave., on April 9, to study and learn more about the Tibetan-Lisuland missions. They heard of the tortures suffered by J. Russell Morse one of the missionaries who was captured by the communists.

Mr. Morse returned to the States some time ago and he and his family are now preparing for another trip to the Tibetan mission fields.

The annual mission conference of the churches of Christ and Christian churches will be held at the First Christian church in Michigan City, Ind. on May 6, 7, 8.

A potluck supper was held at the Tinley Park Grade school April 15, by members of the Tinley Park Church of Christ to celebrate the second anniversary of the church here in Tinley Park.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER
By Mrs. Edwin Hug
Question—What influence in world affairs do you think the appointment of Malinkov will have?
Bob McClellan-Commander V.F. W. Post 2791, 17929 Oak Park avenue.
From the standpoint of a Veteran who has seen the havoc and destruction that can be wrought by people full of lust and desire for power, only one or two conclusions can be drawn about the recent change in leadership in Russia.
First because his position among his own people is shaky and unsure, his own coon, butler, secretary, etc., may be plotting ways to be rid of him, so they can become great heroes. His policy must be one of great shows of force and the instilling of fear in the hearts of all. Therefore our position must be one of preparedness and alertness, we must not turn our backs and say "so what". The best effect of all that it could have on our own people is again to prove, "In unity there is strength", and following this plan along with a firm belief in the power of God, we shall have nothing to fear from vermin who seek to destroy us.
The appointment of George M. Malenkov as Premier of Soviet Russia will, naturally, have a certain influence in world affairs. If he is sincere in his statements regarding world peace, as he would have us believe from his recent speeches, then influence would be of and for the best and great good would result.
However, we think of him, as we did of Stalin, as an enigma, an obscure or ambiguous personality that may puzzle or baffle us at times, as to his real intentions.
He may be faced with discontent or confusion within the Soviet and its satellite countries, a domestic problem. He may, by his peace talks, attempt to lull the Western European countries and our United States into a relaxed mood which might or could split the Western alliance or produce a lethargy among the Western nations, including our country, and thus achieve his aims, immediate or ultimate.
Another phase is the Far East wherein the Chinese Red boss, Mao Tae-tung, may be a decisive factor in the Communist world and may supersede Malenkov in the Communist camp.

Another spot where Malenkov's influence may be felt is the Middle East where a "second front" may be tried involving Arabia, Iraq, Iran and possibly Turkey.
Any developments in these four stated situations and the outcome or results can vitally affect world affairs. As to whether for evil or for good no one, at this moment, can correctly or safely predict.—Frances Webster, President Tinley Park Woman's club.

The Question of Alaskan and Hawaiian Statehood

The question of statehood for Alaska and Hawaii has been hanging fire for a long time. It has already gone so far that the house of representatives has approved statehood for Hawaii. The next step will be in the senate.

To the average voter the addition of one or two stars to the American flag is a matter of indifference. We all have the highest regard for the people of Hawaii and Alaska but there is more to it than this. A resolution introduced by Rep. Frederic R. Coudert, Jr. (R. N. Y.) brings a certain important phase to the matter to the forefront.

Today a minority of the voters in the U. S. possess the majority voice in the senate. Every state in the Union, however small, has two senators, as many as the largest state. If Hawaii were to be admitted to the Union as a state its 500,000 people would have the same representation in the senate as New York State with its 15,000,000 people. In other words, the new Hawaiian voter would have 30 times the political vote of the oldtime New Yorker.

A still more glaring example of disproportionate representation in the senate would be Alaska, which has a little more than 100,000 people. Thus the new Alaskan voter would cast a vote with 150 times the political power of the New Yorker who has been voting all his life.

To compensate for this disproportion in voting power, Mr. Coudert is asking congress to defer the addition of new states until it decides whether it wants to increase unequal political representation. To do this he proposes a constitutional amendment which would give congress the freedom to admit new states with either two, one or no senators. Representation in the house of representatives would remain unchanged.

We believe Mr. Coudert has a point.

BABSON SAYS—

Copyright—1953—Publishers
Financial Bureau, Inc.
Babson Forecasts Higher
Interest Rates

Babson Park, Mass., Apr. 16—Last December on my way from Massachusetts to Florida I found almost all of my Wall Street friends were bullish on stocks.

Wall Street Confused
Today owing to the Korean Peace outlook, the sentiment is now bearish. In fact, the bulls are confined to those who still believe War III is more likely than when Stalin lived. They hold "War Babies" which they fear would suffer by peace.

Impartial observers are very confused and uncertain as to the future. They are thankful that Eisenhower is President; and are glad for Stalin's death. Wall Street, however, believes that Malenkov is not Stalin's real successor and that we will see a change to someone else. They further feel some one of the satellites may kick over the traces and that China may be the one.

All Agree on Interest Rates

The only thing Wall Street now agrees upon is that money rates will stiffen. This will be due to the increase in the Government Bond rates and in installment buying, or the overbuilding of homes and other causes. Here is good news for small investors! You will soon be able to buy 3 1/4% U. S. Government Bonds. This is the first time for 20 years that you have been able to do this. Loaners of money are also getting "choosy" about their loans. They are turning down many applications which they would have accepted a year ago. Banks are waiting to see what the future will bring forth. This hesitancy automatically increases interest rates.

The interest yield of bonds is also an important factor. When good bonds yield little, banks and trustees loan money more freely on mortgages; but today the yield of good bonds is increasing. Many of these bonds are nontaxable as to Federal Income, due to the vast amounts being issued for constructing super-highways.

Interest Payments Already High
Although a bank will tell you that its rate has not increased, yet to you it has increased in terms of purchasing power. A manufacturer who now pays 3 1/2% interest to buy machinery which runs only 40 hours a week is really paying more now than he was paying when the rate was 4% and his machinery operated 48 hours per week. You are already paying more for mortgage money now than when building costs were much less than present costs because you must borrow more money now to build a home. Those who now buy cars and merchandise on installments are today paying 8% or more.

Any attempt to raise wage rates faster than the increase in hourly productivity is equivalent to an increase in interest rates. The most practical solution to present high prices is to abolish the 40 hour week. Otherwise, we must curtail spending which would result in unemployment. To refer again to interest rates, these must increase to check a return of inflation. "We cannot have our pie and eat it too!"

What About Coffee Prices?
This brings me to say another word about retail prices. Since the controls have been lifted, hundreds of complaining letters have come to me. Most of these refer to the price of coffee. Let me say that the price controls were taken off of coffee to help our "good neighbor policy" in Central and South America. Therefore, when you pay more for coffee, just remember you are truly helping millions of very poor people working on the coffee plantations.

If you don't want to help these poor South Americans by paying more for coffee you can reduce the cost of coffee by drinking less of it. We don't need to buy so much coffee. Just reduce one cup a day and you will more than offset the recent increase in price; while your health will be better and you will live longer. Coffee is not a food; it is only a temporary stimulant at best. The present growing habit of many office employees to demand a cup of coffee in the middle of the morning not only increases the price of coffee for everyone, but, by reducing efficiency, is helping to bring on a business depression.
